

He stands in no need of delegation of powers.

4. Islam holds that man is not sinful by birth, nor is it impossible for him to be virtuous; that salvation and success depend upon divine mercy, just as the harvest depends upon man's industry in sowing and tending, and God's favour of good soil and favorable conditions of light, Air, heat and rain.

5. Islam holds that God does forgive whom He wills, where forgiveness will cure the sinner of his sins. That no man can be a sacrifice for another. Each must bear his own cross. No belief in a certain set of doctrines can entitle any man to salvation. Right thinking and right doing are together the means of its atonement.

6. Islam holds that the perfect type of Islamic life was represented in Muhammad^{saw}; that he was as much a man as any other; that he was a prophet like all other prophets, including Jesus^{as} of Nazareth. The type is not only attainable but has actually been attained by other men. That lately, Ahmad^{as} of Qadian (Punjab, India) attained to that type and through him it has pleased God to summon the nations of the world to the banner of Islam.

POINTS TO DISCOVER TRUTH

1. The original and genuine Christianity was the standard bearer of the pure and unadulterated unity of God.. The marks of this pure unity of God can still be traced in the Books of Christianity (John 17:3, Mark 12:29, Isaiah 45:5 and 1 Corinthians 8:6). Furthermore, the existence of a unitarian church among the Christians is a proof par excellence of the fact that the original Christianity has no belief whatsoever in the post invented Trinity. Trinity is undoubtedly an invention of St.Paul.

2. The original and real mission of Jesus^{as} was for the Jews only (Mathew 15:24). Throughout his life Jesus^{as} carried out this mission sincerely and never converted a single gentile in the whole of his ministry.

3. In the Original Christianity the place of Jesus^{as} was that of a prophet or messenger only (Mathew 21:11 and 46). But the present day Christianity, to the horror of the God fearing men presents Christ as God.

4. In genuine Christianity, repentance of sins was a sure means of salvation (Luke 5:32). The present day Christianity however, attaches no value to this rationale. On the other hand it insists that the only way to attain salvation is to have faith in the accursed death of Jesus on the cross.

5. The basis and the spirit of original Christianity was that the law of old Testament should be observed and its sanctity preserved. Jesus Christ says: Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets, i did not come to destroy but to fulfill (Mathew 5:17). Against this declaration of its Holy founder, the present day Christianity annuls the law, calls it a curse and names its disregard as salvation. (Galatians 3:13 and 5:2).

6. A great aim of the original Christianity was to prepare mankind for the acceptance of the Comforter and the spirit of truth coming after Christ to guide unto all truth (John 16:7). But the present day Christianity has not only refused to accept him but also has prevented other nations from doing so.

Distinctive features of Islam and Christianity:

CHRISTIANITY

1. Christianity holds that the higher truths of religion are mysteries, which can never be reached by human understanding. They are to be accepted through faith and do not admit of reasoning nor do they fall within the province of general human experience.

2. Christianity requires one to accept the enigma that there are three Godheads who are separate but the same time one; that each of them is absolutely perfect in himself though its mental impossibility to think for more than one being who is absolutely perfect.

3. Christianity requires one to believe that God begot a son to whom he made over the Godhead of the universe.

4. Christianity holds that man is by nature sinful because of the sin of his first parent His actions are, therefore of no merit in securing his salvation.

5. Christianity holds that sin cannot be forgiven by God save that justice be first propitiated by some sacrifice. It was, therefore, that Christ came to redeem the lost world by offering himself as a ransom. Salvation can, therefore, only be attained by a belief in his vicarious atonement upon the cross.

6. Christianity holds that the life of Jesus is the perfect type of Christian life, but at the same time it, denies that any man has ever attained or can ever possibly attain the type, because Christ was at once God and man, and the same union of divine and human natures will not again happen in the world.

ISLAM

1. Islam considers religion to be a science of divine truths in the same way as chemistry or astronomy is a science relating to its particular class of truths. Like any other science, religion admits of experiment, observation and reasoning. If there is any difference, it consists in religion being more exact and certain than ordinary sciences.

2. Islam requires one to believe that there is no god but One who is absolutely perfect and who necessarily is a source of all that is good and in whom as necessarily there can be nothing that is not good.

3. Islam strongly repudiates such as an idea. Offspring is a sign of imperfection. Permanent things of the universe, e.g. the sun, the moon, the sky beget no offspring. What is transitory and passing e.g. animals and plants, beget offsprings to continue the species. God is self sufficient and unchanging.
